DUCHESS D'UZES CAUSES QUARREL

Undisguised Attentions of Anna Gould's Husband to Daughter-in-Law of Famous Madame Satan Comtesse is Paramount Insult.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch and New York World.)
(Copyright, by the New York World.) LONDON, February 4.—Although it was reported from Paris that Countess Boni Castellane is in London, she could not be located here, but your correspondent met her to-day a French lady with very special means of knowing the exact position of affairs in the Castellane household, who said laughing:
"They are always separating; then they make up again. You see Count Boni knows pretty well that the Gould millions are quite handy to have about the house, and in spite of his airs and graces he is a very practical individual. He is the marvelous subject of the Castellane family as was his father before him. He never made any secret of his excesses, which are numerous, but because of the really great position of all his belongings he is tolerated even if no secret is made of his extravagance. This I mean, he is not limited to the splendid home which he and his wife created just a few months ago. He has furnished a superb apartment, where when he so desires he lives in garcon. This establishment is not dedicated to any special divinity, but he gathers about him there a select variety of hours who happen to charm him collectively.
The glided youths of Paris tell weird stories of the orgies that occur in this exclusive little cage. Madame Anna knows all these little eccentricities, but has never bothered much about them for her own sake. She is accepted as the necessary adjunct of life in most polite Parisian households. What she has objected to is to receive in her own apartment of honor have been the undisguised attentions of Count Boni to Duchesse D'Uzes Marie Therese, the beautiful daughter-in-law of a famous Duchesse, who was familiarly known as Madame Satan Comtesse. Mrs. Boni could occasionally overlook Boni's outrageous lapses in other quarters, but to be insulted for a grande dame of the Fourbourg St. Germain was too much for her to swallow. This I mean, she I don't believe it is so serious as people say.
"Mrs. Anna, you know, has only been accepted and lived in Paris because she is Count Boni's wife, and the mother of his two sons."

Separation Not Doubted.

PARIS, February 4.—Countess Boni de Castellane, who was Anna Gould, daughter of the late Jay Gould, and her husband have separated.
The Countess suddenly left the Grand Trianon—her magnificent town residence on the Avenue du Bois de Boulogne—by night more than a week ago, and went to the Hotel de Ville. Two days ago she returned to the Trianon, but that was only after Count Boni had departed for the South of France.
The Countess Anna has consulted Edmond Kelly, a distinguished American lawyer here, and he has associated with him another prominent American lawyer, who will appear for the Countess. She promises to be one of the most sensational divorce suits ever brought in the aristocratic circle to which the Castellanians belong.
For it is not separation, but divorce, which the American heiress' friends believe she will demand of French justice.

Warned Her Husband.

The Countess long ago gave a solemn and final warning to her husband, with whose extravagance in money matters and whose frivolous entanglements with dancers and singers and other persons outside her own circle of acquaintances she had been patient. She told him that such adventures were beneath her notice.
But she added, her friends say, that she would not endure for an instant any departure from the most strict conventions which involved any woman whom she might be obliged to invite to her own house.
And to this, it is said, her husband gave the most solemn promises of agreement.

Last Straw of Jealousy.

The woman who is blamed for the apparently final rupture of the Castellanes is a titled Frenchwoman, who is one of the smartest and most charming leaders of society in Paris. She is beautiful and rich in her own right. She is married to a man prominent not only in society, but also in politics. He also has a great fortune.
Indeed, if, as now seems to be probable, the scandal comes out in the courts, it will have far-reaching consequences in both the social and political worlds; and what those consequences may be have been the subjects of conversation and speculation and exaggerated rumor tonight.

This latest trouble has been brewing since the reception to King Carlos. On the day she left her husband the Countess Boni discovered, or rather became convinced, that his long-standing social friendship with the Count de Castellane, described covered a more serious relation.
Perhaps one of the reasons which led her to suspect this state of affairs is the fact that for a long time Count Boni has seemed absolutely to have renounced, so far as his entanglements "outside of society" were concerned. He spent no more late evenings at supper with his friends, and he had ceased to appear at the theatres and salons of Paris as usual.
His social opportunities to further his

AMERICANS AND BRITISHERS ABSENT

Horrible Amusement Prepared for the United States and Great Britain

(By Associated Press.)
ALGERIRAS, February 4.—The brilliant, though bloody spectacle of a bull fight in honor of the conference on Morocco reforms was the event of to-day.
Crowds came from all parts of Andalusia to the vast stone amphitheatre where the bull ring is, and more than six thousand persons saw the fight. A box gaily decorated with the Spanish colors accompanied the ambassadors and officials of many countries. Most of the delegations were represented and many of the conference were accompanied by their wives and daughters. The Duke of Almodovar, the Spanish foreign minister, who is president of the conference, accompanied by the Duchess, was the center of a group of ambassadors and Spanish women in picturesque costumes lent a touch of quaintness to the animated scene. The American and British delegates did not attend.

Many Horses Butchered.

Three celebrated bull fighters furnished the sport, and the bulls were from the famous herd of Don Moreno Santa Maria, of Seville. The first animal brought into the ring, a huge, black Andalusian beast, Lagartillo, attacked the matador, who killed five horses, four of them dying in the arena, while the fifth, terribly gored, staggered about and died.
The picadors were often unharmed, but one of them was seriously hurt. The skill of the matadors was shown as they plodded before the howling animals, which were stung to madness by darts with their gay streamers stuck into them.
The foreigners present witnessed the scene with mingled admiration at the audacity of the matadors and horror at its cruelty.

HOPE HANGS OUT FOR DECATUR AND MARZONI

ANNAPOLIS, Md., February 4.—The action of the President in pardoning Mid-shipman John P. Miller, of Lancaster, Ky., who was convicted of hazing by court-martial, was promulgated at dinner formation at the Naval Academy today, and Miller resumed his position as captain of the Twelfth Company, The Navy Department has asked further information relative to the cases of Mid-shipman Stephen Decatur, Jr., of Portsmouth, N. H., and Petersen B. Marzoni, of Pensacola, Fla., both formerly members of the first class.

Japan to Increase Navy.

TOKYO, February 4.—At a meeting of the Sectional Budget Committee to-day, a delegate, representing the government, said that Japan expected to increase the tonnage of her navy to 400,000 tons by the end of the fiscal year of 1907-08.

LAD MEETS DEATH UNDER CAR WHEELS

William Jenkins Falls From a Freight Train in Fulton and Body is Mangled.

William Jenkins, fourteen years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jenkins, of Marion Hill, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon, by being thrown from a freight train and caught under the wheels. His left arm was severed from the body, his left leg lacerated, his back and chest bruised, and his head cut in several places. He died last night at 11:30 o'clock.
The boy was employed by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, as extra call boy, and had gone to summon a workman, and was returning to the roundhouse in Fulton, when the accident happened. He was swinging to the side of a box car and was struck by the bridge at the Nicholson Street crossing, and thrown under the wheels of the moving train. One of the trucks caught him and he was dragged for half a square before the train came to a stop.
A hurried call was sent for the ambulance, and Dr. Witten responded. Driver Roy Ford, of the ambulance, made the distance about two miles from the bridge to the railroad crossing in ten minutes from the time the call was received. This is considered remarkably good time for speed and is undoubtedly prolonged the life of the youth.
After temporarily treating the boy, Dr.
Witten carried him to the Retreat for the Sick, where Drs. C. W. P. Brock, Hugh Taylor and George Jones, local surgeons for the Railroad Company, did what could be done to alleviate the sufferings of the lad. He was conscious for several hours after the accident, and gave his name and address. His parents were summoned and came to the hospital at night.

In a sermon of extraordinary force, and delivered with marked vigor and well sustained reserve, Rev. R. M. Maxey, of Union Station Methodist Episcopal Church, on last night made pungent references to local, civic and social conditions. The text was the fifth verse of St. Paul's Epistle to the Philippians.
"Let this mind be in you that was also in Christ Jesus." An earnest plea was made for pure mindedness, which means purity of character and conduct. In discussing the phase of his subject, which embraced the action of the mind caused by "suggestions through the medium of sight and hearing," the speaker said:
"You have recently heard some criticism of Mayor McCarthy. Some have said he has acted too hot-headedly and all that. Now I want to say I am not personally acquainted with the Mayor and am neither his defender or apologist.
But I also say this, that Mayor McCarthy is on the right line, and you Richmond voters ought to let him know it.
The permission of the Penny Arcade in Richmond would be a reflection upon the city. We read almost daily of lynchings of brutes for vile crime, and yet in our free and cosmopolitan America, with a mixture of the raffish of all nations, public amusements are permitted that appeal to the bestial instincts of men.

ENTERTAINED PEOPLE WHO MURDERED HIM

New York Knight Watchman Found in His Cabin With Skull Crushed.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, February 4.—Dead about two hours, his skull crushed in by an axe, John Arthur, a Canadian, employed as a night watchman on a pile driver, was found to-day in the cabin house of the craft in the Hudson River, on West Thirtieth Street. A new pier is being constructed at this point. The cabin was in great disorder and indicated that the watchman had entertained some one on board before the murder was committed.
Two boys who rowed out to the pile driver, discovered the dead man.

DR. RAINSFORD RESIGNS FROM RECTORSHIP

NEW YORK, February 4.—Rev. Dr.
William S. Rainford, for twenty-two years rector of St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church, this city, has resigned the rectorship, owing to continued ill health, and Rev. Hugh Breckhead, the assistant rector, has been elected to succeed him.
Dr. Rainford is widely known as a preacher and writer, and has been very active in philanthropic work. He became rector of St. George's parish in 1882.
He was then thirty-two years of age.
The church was practically without a congregation. He lays down his charge, leaving a congregation numbering 7,000 souls and an endowment fund increased by $300,000. St. George's is one of the wealthiest churches in the city.

CHINESE DISMISS YANKEE TEACHER

ney's Work, But He Wouldn't Do.

MUCH HISTORY IN AMERICAN'S WAKE

Angry at Nightly High Jinks of Officers of Allied Troops, Tenney Offered to Lead Them to Relief of Women and Children.

(By Associated Press.)
PEKIN, February 4.—Yuan Shi Kai, Viceroy of Chihli Province, has discharged Professor T. C. Tenney, the foreign director of education, who organized the new school system in this province, and within three years made it a model for the empire. Strong opposition has arisen lately to foreign management of the schools, and particularly against Dr. Tenney, because he is an American. Yuan Shi Kai told Dr. Tenney that he appreciated his work, but Yuan Shi Kai has so many enemies that he could not afford to keep him.
The boycott agitation against American goods is being revived. When it began, Mr. Rockhill, the American minister, and the American consuls urged the Chinese to wait until Congress had time to act on their demands, and the failure of Congress to do so has aroused their resentment. Strong pressure has been brought to bear upon the republic to remove E.
B. Drew, the commissioner of customs at Canton, who is considered one of the ablest men in the establishment of the Robert Hart, director-general of maritime customs, because he is an American.

Professor Tenney was an appointee of Yuan Shi Kai and started the construc- tion of the college at Paoingfu, the seat of the viceroy.

In July 1900, at the time of the "Boxer" uprising, Dr. Tenney was president of the university of Tien Tsin. He became angry over the nightly entertainments given by the high officers of the forces to march from Tien Tsin to Peking, offering to guide the army thither.
"This business is now progressing in accordance with Anglo Saxon traditions," he said. "Twenty thousand soldiers staying here while women and children of their own race are starving and awaiting massacre 30 miles away, military and naval officers meanwhile wasting time in bickering over petty politics, in a sorry spectacle. It will be a dark blot on the reputation of every commanding officer here if the white people in Peking are allowed to perish without a desperate effort to save them."

Foreigners Alarmed.

(By Associated Press.)
HONG KONG, February 4.—Foreigners at Canton are in a state of great apprehension, owing to the insufficiency of protection. The residence of Rev. Dr.
Andrew Beattie, an American Presbyterian missionary, at Fati, was looted Saturday by an armed band of Chinese, and later, when the guard boat was requested to send assistance, the captain replied that he was not empowered to comply with the request.

AWAKENING TO COST $50,000

Choir of 3,000 Voices and 400

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., February 4.—

After a four years' evangelistic campaign, which took them through Australia, India, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales and Canada, the Rev. Reuben A. Torrey and Charles M. Alexander, the revivalists, today began in this city a three months' mission, with afternoon and evening meetings, which is expected to eclipse any similar movement ever undertaken here.
Two large meetings were held in the armory of the Second Regiment, N. G. P., the first in the afternoon and the second to-night. There was an overflow of several thousand persons, and hundreds attended services in nearby churches. A choir sang several hymns, and Mr. Tor-rey delivered his introductory sermon on "He that winneth souls is wise." There were ten conversions.
A choir of about 3,000 voices has been provided, 600 being present at each meeting. Mr. Alexander is musical director.
About 400 clergymen and others have volunteered to do personal work among the people or act as ushers. During the revival noon-day meetings will be conducted for the benefit of business men, and meetings will also be held in large industrial establishments. The religious awakening is expected to cost close to $50,000, which sum is being collected through general contributions of the citizens of the city.
Those engaged in the work of evangelism hope that the revival begun here today will spread throughout the country. After their three months' work in this city, Messrs. Torrey and Alexander will go to Atlanta, Ga., for the month of May.

ROYAL FAMILY WAS PRESENT

King Eulogized Not So Much As

COPENHAGEN, February 4.—

There was an impressive memorial service over the body of King Christian in the "Garden" room of the palace to-night. All the members of the royal family were present, but otherwise the ceremony was strictly private.
Two sentries of the foot guard, wearing old-fashioned busbies, stand at the door.
The King's four personal adjutants and a lackey will remain on duty beside the coffin until it is removed to its last resting place within the gray walls of Roskilde. The coffin lies in the middle of the room beneath the gaze of former Danish kings and queens, whose pictures line the red tapestried walls. It is covered with two Danish flags and lies amid banks of the rarest flowers.
On the coffin is the brass helmet with its plume and the crossed sword, and scabbard worn by King Christian when he was the captain of the Danish Horse Guards, the standards of which regiment are planted on either side of the head. flanking two enormous silver candelabra

A massive silver casket stands on a white covered table, while palms and ferns are arranged in the corners of the room to complete the picture of impres-

King Christian was eulogized not so he had procured a seat for the Degorote-Fitzpatrick prize fight, scheduled to be

Dr. Broughton has a record for strenu-

Under the special order it has the right are fifty Democrats who wish to be heard is inclined to let the debate run, and estimates that it will be Wednesday or Thurs-
